HENRY GEORGE IS DEAD.Died of Apoplexy at Five O'Clock this Morning.*HIS WIFE AND SON WITH HIM.*Has Been a Changed Man for Days Past and Among Intimate Friends*Death Not a Great Surprise.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Oct. 29.—Henry George, the nominee of the Jeffersonian Democracy for Mayor of New York, died at 5 o'clock this morning, in room 22, at the Union Square hotel. The cause of his death was probably apoplexy.

He retired late last night after addressing several large meetings. Mrs. George, Henry George, Jr., and the doctor were present when he died.

About 3 o'clock this morning Mrs. George was awakened by the convulsive movements of her husband. He was moaning faintly. Jumping up she found him in a dying condition.

She immediately rang for the night clerk who summoned a doctor. The doctor arrived in about twenty minutes. Everything possible was done for the doughty leader of the Jeffersonian Democracy despite which he passed away without regaining consciousness. He died with a smile on his face.

He was not old but of an extremely sensitive disposition and those who knew him well have feared for some time that he was overtaxing himself. At times during the campaign he has been incoherent and his whole temperament seemed to have undergone a complete change. He had not been strong for three years. Last night he delivered three speeches.

Particularly within the last few days his close friends have noted with apprehension the marked changes in his appearance and manner. His eyes which had once beamed upon the masses with which he was so closely in touch had grown dull and little wrinkles had made their appearance about the corners of his eyes. His eyes had sunk into hollow caverns and his voice had become querulous like one whose nerves were so tightly wrought that they might snap at any time and without warning.

At the outset of the campaign he had endeavored to see everybody who called at his little home, but his friends found this too much for him, so took him to a hotel and established a cordon of sentinels about his headquarters. This caused some complaint that plain, honest, open-hearted, frank, Democratic Henry George was getting too exclusive.

Henry George was born in the year 1839 and was therefore 58 years old at the time of his death. He has been a well known writer on political economy and sociology for a number of years. He was of decidedly radical tendencies. His chief literary reputation rests upon his book titled "Progress and Poverty" which created a great deal of discussion at the time of its appearance and has had a wide sale in this and other countries having been translated into several foreign languages. In this book George advocated making land values the basis of all taxation and from that has derived the title of "single taxer." The book made many converts to the single tax theory and Henry George had a numerous, if rather widely scattered, following.

His body will not be taken from the hotel today. He will probably be buried from his home at Fort Hamilton, but the date has not been set.

As it Appears to Us.

When the southbound trains over the Southern reach Greensboro they stop to take in water at the tank, leaving the passenger coaches way below the station. Of course it is not intended for people to get off the train down there, but they do it just the same, and it is not an easy matter to find the persons you are looking for if they come in on one of those trains. That, of course, is the railroad company's business, but we suggest that it would be a great convenience to travelers if they would run the train up to the station, let the passengers get off, and then let the engine take a drink.

Another Bank Suspends.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Athens, Pa., Oct. 29.—The first national bank here has decided to liquidate and suspend business. The creditors will receive full amount of their claims. The institution was founded in 1865.

DEATH LAST NIGHT.Mr. C. S. Webster Was Summoned by the Grim Reaper.

This morning a TELEGRAM man entered a small room at 317 E. Market street, where lay the mortal remains of Cicero S. Webster, who died last night at the Astley-Cooper hospital of consumption.

He was 25 years of age, the son of Archibald M. Webster, and together they had lived and conducted a sort of patent medicine business and job printing office. Leading a secluded life, having few friends or acquaintances, their nearest neighbors knew little of them or how they lived, and it was a shock, on entering the room where the undertaker placed the dead body this morning to find it destitute of furniture or any of the comforts of life. No chairs, no bed clothes to speak of, the whole place presented a cheerless and dreary aspect. A near-by neighbor brought in some chairs, and kind-hearted people were sitting in the lonely death room, waiting for the hour of the funeral services and burial, 4 o'clock this evening.

The young man had been sinking for several weeks, but being too proud to let his condition be known, comparatively little was done for him. A few days ago West Market Street Epworth League found his case and had him removed to the hospital, but it was too late. Consumption had him in its deadly clutches and last night the grim reaper claimed its victim.

We are told that he united with the Presbyterian church only a day or two ago. He was an ambitious, but singularly unfortunate young man in business and the story of his life and death is a pitiful one. This writer saw him only a few months ago when he seemed bright and cheerful, hopeful and buoyant. He struggled bravely, but in vain it was too much for him.

POINTS FROM HIGH POINT.Personal and Local Affairs Briefly Mentioned.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., Oct. 29, '97.

Mr. L. Clark left for Oak Ridge today and will be accompanied by his son Howard. En-route Mr. Clark will deliver Mr. D. F. Caldwell's portrait.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hamner returned last night from Washington.

Joe Jackson's little four year old girl who died yesterday was buried this morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. T. A. Smoot performing the last rites.

Miss Callie Futch left this morning for Washington.

Mr. N. H. Slaughter is fitting up a reading room at the Jarrell, to open into the office.

The dog and pony show gave a good performance last night and drew a fair crowd.

Messrs. W. H. and Charles Ragan spent the day in Greensboro.

Mr. T. F. Wrenn went down to Greensboro on the 11:40 train.

Circulating Library.

One of Greensboro's greatest needs is a public library. Some attempts have been made to establish one, but under the old plan the cost is heavy and when the books are read or get damaged the whole thing is to be done over again.

The problem is now solved and we are to have a circulating library composed of the best assortment of books to be had and at a trifling expense. Mr. G. E. Brodriek, of our city, has arranged to establish stations in Greensboro and some adjoining towns each station to be furnished with a library. These libraries will be exchanged at stated intervals, thus there will be no old books. The books are all well bound and will be kept so.

This system is in vogue in a large part of the United States and is much more satisfactory and less expensive than the old plan.

The cost of membership is within the reach of all, but as only a limited number can be accommodated, those wishing to embrace this opportunity should see Mr. Brodriek at once.

Claims to be a Sun of Pullman.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Gustav Behring, the young man who was arrested while prowling around the Pullman residence, and who claims that he is a son of the late George M. Pullman, was examined by an insanity expert today, who pronounced the man sane. He was accordingly discharged. Behring declares he will push his claim against the estate of the dead millionaire.

Auction! No humbug; no kicking pomeys, but of the very finest up-to-date '98 model bicycle. Come and see them sell and bring your ladies with you. Sale 3 and 8 p. m. Saturday night last sale.

GEORGE'S STRENGTH FOR LOWThe Marshalling of the Forces This Morning.*GAYNOR'S NAME SUGGESTED.*But the Leaders Seem to Think it Too Late to Put Up Another Candidate Now.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Oct. 29.—The announcement of Henry George's death this morning produced indescribable dismay and confusion among his leaders and followers.

Just before noon today a meeting of the George leaders and campaigners was held to determine upon some course of action. Leader Tom Johnson is in favor of throwing the strength of the ticket to Low. Others made suggestions and name Justice Gaynor, Richard George and Col. E. N. Knox as possible successors. Later it was intimated by the leaders that they would endorse Seth Low.

3:30 p. m. The Press has a bulletin stating that it has been decided to put up Henry George Jr., on his father's ticket. This is being urged all over the city late this afternoon.

BREAKING SENATORIAL RECORD.Long Winded Austrian Talking the Reichsrath to Death.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Vienna, Austria, Oct. 29.—Herr Lecker at half past six o'clock this morning was still delivering—the speech which after the battle of words with the German Liberal leader and the uproarious scenes in the Reichsrath, he was able to resume at 10:50 last night.

Several hours were lost in demanding an adjournment of the house on the ground that the stenographers were overcome with fatigue. Lecker's speech was not finished at nine o'clock when the ministers were asked to attend a secret session. The trouble started over impeachment proceedings.

PITTSBURG EXCHANGE BURNED.Loss Estimated at Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Pittsburg, Oct. 29.—The stock exchange building at fourth avenue burned this morning. The building was occupied by the Stock Exchange, Union Trust Company, Durrs Cafe and a large number of stock brokers. The fire was not under control until after eleven o'clock. The building was completely destroyed. The loss is estimated at $150,000.

DOUBLE RAILROAD COLLISION.Passenger Crashes Into Wreck of Milk and Coal Trains.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Plainfield, N. J., Oct. 29.—A milk train on the Lehigh Valley railroad collided with an east bound coal train at South Plainfield last night. Several cars were thrown over on the west-bound track and the midnight express crashed into them. Several of its coaches were damaged and a brakeman badly injured.

At The A. and M. College.

The colored A. & M. College here is keeping pace with the progress of the city. It is now preparing to build a dairy 40 by 40 feet and a barn 40 by 60 feet. The first story of these buildings will be of brick, the second of wood.

The dairy will be built on the most approved modern plan, having different departments and the best facilities for churning and handling milk and butter. This step also means that a lot of the best breeds of cattle will be bought.

It adds a new and practical branch of study to the institution and is a most commendable step. We wish the enterprise the highest measure of success.

A Solar Plexus Blow.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—Joseph Brady aged twenty-three years was killed in a saloon this morning by a solar plexus blow. He had been skylarking with two friends. No arrests have been made.

Football at Danville.

On account of the football game at Danville on Saturday, Oct. 30, the Southern Railway Co. will sell round trip tickets to that place, good returning November 1st. Fare for round trip, $2.00. J. B. GRAHAM, T. A.

YELLOW JOURNALISM UP TO DATEA Pertinent Instance of its Modesty and Reliability.

In the New York World of yesterday appeared the following:
"CID" MAY BE AVENGED.

REWARD OFFERED FOR THE CONVICTION OF HIS TORTURERS.
Special to the World.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 27.—John P. Harris, of New York City, president of the American Society for the prevention of Cruelty to Animals, has notified Dr. Ballard, president of the North Carolina society, that he offers $100 reward for the arrest and conviction of the persons who tortured by fire at Greensboro the elephant Cid, owned by Robinson & Franklin's circus. The reward holds good anywhere.

Mr. Harris had read the story in the World.

And the World had stolen it, from alpha to omega. The following letter, given verbatim, will explain how "Mr. Harris had read the story in the World."

THE AMERICAN SOCIETY FOR THE PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.
New York, Oct. 23, 1896.

Editor THE GREENSBORO EVENING TELEGRAM, Greensboro, N. C.:

Dear Sir:—In the issue of THE TELEGRAM of Saturday, Oct. 16th, I find an account of what I consider one of the most outrageous cases of brutality that I have heard of in many years. Taking it for granted that the facts are true as stated, I hereby offer, on behalf of the above society, a reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties responsible for the affair, which is a direct violation of sections 2,482 and 2,487, chapter 12, 2d code, Laws of North Carolina, the penalty for which violation, upon conviction, is a fine of not more than $50 or imprisonment not more than thirty days, or both fine and imprisonment as aforesaid.

Yours very truly,
JOHN P. HARRIS,
President.

You can get the telegraphic news twelve hours earlier in THE TELEGRAM than in any paper that gets into Greensboro, and for four dollars a year less.

THE Union Pacific has lost cash hopelessly; even Mark Hanna denies a speaking acquaintance with it.

OUR Populist friends must have sent the Hon. C. H. Martin to Congress to show what they can do in a literary way when they have a mind to.

THE government is to be congratulated on having induced the syndicate to permit it some small voice in fixing the price of the Union Pacific railway.

THE St. Louis father who told his four daughters they must be married by the end of the year probably failed to consider all the limitations in the case.

NEW YORK has imposed a tax on narrow wagon tires. It never loses an opportunity to emphasize the fact that it is broad gauged and cosmopolitan.

THE fact that Pullman's will shows him worth only a paltry seven million should set at rest all imputation that he was in collusion with the porters on his cars.

IF half the things printed about the quartette of Mayoralty candidates betwixt the only certain thing about the situation is that the first mayor of Greater New York will be either a fool or villain.

GOVERNOR ATKINSON, of Georgia is doing some plain talking about the lynchings that have been done in Georgia but observers of the situation are convinced that talk does not quite come up to its requirements.

ENGLAND and France are joining the chorus and trying to get up a scrap over a patch of Africa haunted by malaria, scrawny aborigines and the imagination of Olive Schreiner. A weary world is justified in demanding that somebody fight or dry up.

ALL doubts as to our preparedness for war with Spain have been allayed: a brand new leader has been found for the Marine band. It only remains to secure a few hundred feet of gold braid for General Miles and a speaking trumpet for Theodore Roosevelt and we will be prepared to meet the haughty Spaniard on his territory and perforate him—with envy.

AS a pertinent instance of how a sensible man can talk absolute nonsense when he gets off his ground, we offer in evidence a sentence from a long-winded editorial in the Baltimore Sun on the brutalities of football. The Sun is discussing the use of secret signals when it relieves itself of the following: "It is difficult to distinguish in ethics between the propriety of such secret signals in football and like secret signals between partners in a game of whist." It would seem that a paper that can draw such a fine distinction as the Sun is known to have done—in distinguishing its democracy from Republicanism for example—would find no difficulty, whatever, in a matter so simple. The moral is sufficiently obvious: if you don't know what you are talking about, better not talk at all.

THE Union Republican is much excused because it was given out that in the Young Republican League organized in Raleigh during the fair there was a lack of harmony. It asserts that the whole business was mounted on ball bearings and well oiled and there was not a jar nor a jerk anywhere. And yet despite all that pretty assertion it would be an easy matter to prove that a glorious row was narrowly averted and that all show of harmony was manufactured after the organization adjourned.

The North Carolina Methodist Episcopal Conference meets in Raleigh December 1. Bishop Hargrave will preside.

Salisbury is suffering a revival of the mad dog scare. The Sun says two or more have appeared there recently, but no one was bitten.

The Atherton mills of Charlotte will start on double time on November 8. This mill has 10,000 spindles, which will count 20,000 on double time.

Sam Jones will lecture at the Henrietta mills, near Rutherford, November 16th. Excursions will be run from Rutherford and Lincolnton.

One who has experienced it tells the Shelby Aurora that the way to avoid being run over by a wheelman is to lay flat down across the sidewalk.

Nine persons were sent to the chain gang during the recent term of court at Lenoir. This beats all previous records from Caldwell county.

The Press-Visitor management states that it will be published as heretofore. The new morning daily to be published in Raleigh will not in any way effect the Press-Visitor.

Blackberries ripening in October is very unusual in this section, and yet some fully matured and ripe blackberries were gathered near here last week.—Chatham Record.

Three conductors have been dismissed from the Seaboard Air Line on a charge of passing friends to stations beyond that called for by their tickets. They say the charge is false.

Mr. Norton, an architect, of Durham, who was so seriously hurt by a railroad train there last year, sues the Southern railway for $20,000 damages. The case comes up here.—Press Visitor.

Superintendent John R. Smith, of the penitentiary, says he will put in 1,500 acres in wheat and 1,000 in oats at the state farms. He will put in machines and split and bale the corn shucks and ship them north.

The Louisburg Hardware and Supply Company was yesterday incorporated by the Secretary of State for a period of thirty years, and with a capital stock of $3,500, with privilege of increasing to $50,000. The incorporators are Joseph J. Barrow, Walter L. Payne and Jordon S. Barrow.—News and Observer.

The Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer says: The Republicans express the belief that Julian S. Carr or John S. Cunningham will be the next Democratic nominee for governor. James H. Young, member of the Republican state committee, says that undoubtedly Claudius Dockery will be the next nominee of his party for governor.

Mr. Elijah Woolard, of Bunyan, on Monday last in some way became entangled in a cog-wheel of his grist mill, completely cutting his left leg to pieces. Three wounds were so deep the doctor could place his hand in them. Dr. Blount was called to the unfortunate man. After consultation amputation was decided upon, but there was no hope and he died in a short time.—Washington Messenger.

I do try to get them clean, but I just can't do it with nothing but an old piece of carpet for a foot mat. If you'd just send down to Odell's and get one of their Cocoa mats, I'd promise you to give you no more trouble. I was down there yesterday, and they had just opened up the greatest lot of them—beauties. And the clerk said they are cheaper than ever."

A DROP IN COAL

is what we are all hoping for before winter sets in for good. But we don't see any signs of it now. We will drop you all the good, clean coal you wish to burn at prices that no one can drop on, as we have shaved them as close as possible. We will not be undersold.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

John McCreary, of Winston, was here today.

R. H. Brooks went to Elon College on the noon train.

B. N. Duke, of Durham, was here today going to New York.

The five-months-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Vance, of Winston, died yesterday.

The Southside Pharmacy is a first-class drug store with kindred branches. Call on them.

The Southern Railway company is having the floor of their baggage room raised several inches.

A little skim or two of white frost now and the season for baked 'possum and sweet 'taters will be on in earnest.

Messrs. Fordham & Ball, the East Market street Racket Store people, have a new ad in the paper today. Read it.

The Piedmont Bank has put a new carpet in their counting room, which adds to the comfort and appearance of the place.

Now is the time to buy grapes, Andrews advertises fresh ones at 15 cents. He has a fine display of fruits for Saturday.

Dr. C. Alphonso Smith's lecture, "Two Weeks in Italy" has been postponed on account of the state of his father's health.

The energetic, enterprising and hustling firm, the Cox-Ferree Dry Goods Company, have a change of ad for your consideration.

We are glad to see stepping stones being put in at the crossing of North Elm and Church streets. It is a much needed improvement.

Rev. T. N. Ivey, D. D., will preach for Rev. S. O. Hall, next Sunday at 11 a. m. at Westminster Presbyterian church. There will be no night service.

Rev. Dr. J. Henry Smith had another sinking spell this morning, but towards noon he seemed to rally. It is hard to tell just what his real condition is. His friends still hope for his recovery.

R. D. Douglas will leave tomorrow for Danville, where he will umpire a game of football to be played there between the University of North Carolina team and the Blacksburg (Va.) team.

The Winston train was rocked near Guilford College this morning by a white man who was plainly seen. There was no damage done, but officers are after the rascal, and we hope he will be captured.

Very soon now the festive quail had better take to the woods. And even in tall timber he will not be safe. The game law expires Sunday night and whithersoever the bird goes there will the hunter and his dog go also.

The Greensboro Sash and Blind Co. and the Cape Fear Lumber Co. are busy as busy can be, and every wheel is turning. We are glad to see this, and we are glad that we see no loafing carpenters around town. What story does all this tell?

The largest tobacco break of the season so far took place here today. Both the Banner and the Farmers' warehouses were crowded. Prices ranged satisfactory to the farmers and they went away well pleased, with words of praise for Greensboro as a tobacco market.

The pony and dog show yesterday afternoon and last night was largely attended. The general verdict is that it was a good show. It is really wonderful how ponies and dogs can be trained to display almost human instincts. The fire company feature was new and well carried out by dog and monkey firemen.

The big minstrel show which has been advertised all the week for Saturday night at Bogart's Opera House has been changed to the Academy of Music. This change is made we are told on account of the Academy being the most suitable place. Mr. Bogart says he is not caring much about the show business this season and has not fixed his house. Note the change.

Shipment of Trees.

We noticed a large shipment of trees this morning from the nurseries of Jno. A. Young. They were billed to various places, some to State Springs, Miss., La Plata, Md., Union, S. C., Ferrum, Va., Greer's, S. C., and some from the Pomona Hill nurseries to Smith's Wharf, Va.

This is a growing industry. Our near-by nurserymen are doing a good business and we are glad to see this widening out.

Cheap Gas.

Since October 1st, 1897, and forward, illuminating gas furnished at $2 per thousand feet, if bill is paid on presentation, provided the same amounts to $1 or more for each meter. Fuel gas for cooking purposes $1 per thousand feet, net.

HUNTING THE "POOR OFFICER."

A Woman With Two Children Who Says She Came from New York.

A white woman with two small children struck the city this morning. One of the children is a small babe in the woman's arms, and the other a bright looking little boy, presumably 6 or 7 years old.

The woman gave her name as Grace Lenoir, and she was trying to reach Lenoir. She told an officer she was given transportation from New York to Washington and from Washington to Greensboro. At Washington she said she was told that the "poor officer" at Greensboro would give her transportation to Lenoir and she was looking for him. Of course there is a mistake about this, as there is no "poor officer" here.

The woman was not very communicative and did not want to tell her name. There is evidently some mystery about the business. The little boy was asked: "Where is your father?" to which he glibly replied: "He run away."

It may be that she has treed her absconding hubby at Lenoir and is trying to make her way to him. It may or may not be. Up to the hour of going to press she had not found the "Poor officer."

A GOOD HOUSE

Saw Who's Your Friend at Academy of Music Last Night.

The Graham company played to a good house last night, much better than the first night. The crowd was of course delighted with the performance.

The company left on the northbound vestibule last night.

Witchwork.

Those who come to us for Fall Shoes sometimes think it must be witchwork that makes it possible for us to fit them so quickly, perfectly and cheaply. Not a bit of it! It's not witchwork, but hard work, that does it.

While you were fishing and loafing and resting in summer, we were at work to get this stock in shape—which work is what worked the witchwork.

For Example:

We are offering this week:
Ladies' Vici Kid, hand sewed button shoes, London toe, patent tip, B, C, D and E width, at $3.50, worth $5.00.

Ladies' cloth top button or lace shoes, patent tip, com. toe, C, D and E widths, sizes 1 to 7, at $2.50. This shoe would be cheap at $3.50.
